Striker Professional Table Football for Your Entertainment

Your friends will love you for it

If you are an employer and you want a more relaxed atmosphere at the office, you can always get a football table for your employees to play during breaks, or you might just as well get one for your home so that you can play with your friends.

The Striker football table is without doubt one of the best tables out there, giving you a real pub feeling. The undisputed king of tables, the Striker has an impact resistant toughened glass top and ball guard, making it ideal for all uses. Incorporating all the characteristics expected of a professional table, it comes with safety telescopic poles to ensure maximum security. An optional floodlit pitch may be fitted for night time games. The Striker is available in red/black, blue/black, black or pimpled brushed aluminum. Kids will enjoy this table, adults will love it. Everything about it has a quality feel, from the weight of the table for when things get really physical, to the tough but tactile handles giving you the grace of a ballerina on the ball or the force of an Apollo Rocket when shooting, it's pure fun! The striker football table also has the option of being coin operated, ideal for pubs and clubs or even the budding business man. It features anti-rust chrome effect steel telescopic poles, easily detachable legs and indestructible polyurethane plastic handles and players. This sounds really good, because with such an item, you really need quality, otherwise, you've got the football table for nothing, if it breaks in half after you used it twice. However, quality has a price, and this price is somewhere around 800 pounds sterling, or, to put it differently, a little bit over 1,200 US dollars. If you ask me, that's quite expensive entertainment, especially in this times, when the financial crisis has made most people aware of their expenditures.
